

Internationally acclaimed pianist to give free master class April 4

03/26/2007

Svetlana Belsky, international acclaimed pianist, will give a piano master class, which is free and open to the public, from

Svetlana Belsky

5:30 to 7:30 p.m. Wednesday, April 4, on the Jordan Stage in Sheslow Auditorium.

Born in the former Soviet Union, Belsky began piano lessons at the age of seven and was soon performing in the major concert halls of her native Kiev. She received her bachelor's degree of music summa cum laude as well as a master's degree from the Peabody Conservatory of Music and a doctorate in performance from the Manhattan School of Music. Belsky has won prizes in numerous national and international piano competitions and currently serves on the faculty of the Music Institute of Chicago and the University of Chicago.

"Svetlana Belsky is a wonderful and established artist of the international music scene, and we're very fortunate that she is willing to give a class for our piano students," said Nicholas Roth, assistant
